Gender Mainstreaming

BACKGROUND:

Gender Issues are intertwined in social, political, economic and environmental spheres of any country and have been widely discussed at the international and national level in the recent past. Despite enormous contribution women have made in the diverse fields viz. education, environmental protection, businesses, governance, etc. They continue to struggle for their basic rights. In the backdrop of new economic policy the gender gaps in various indices of development have widened and social inequalities have deepened in numerous ways. With the increase in 'developmental' imbalances and unequal access to basic entitlements, there is a blurring of distinction between the 'inclusionary' policies to address 'exclusionary' practices. The need of the hour is to bring about true socio-economic empowerment of women and 'Gender Mainstreaming' of the country, across regions and classes which require active participation of all stakeholders in sharing their experiences.

This conference is an attempt to identify and reflect upon the complex set of challenges facing our country from gender perspective and hopes to have inputs from academicians, voluntary agencies, the government officials, policy makers and women themselves.

FOR WHOM:

This conference attempts to bring together academicians, voluntary agencies, corporate executives, research scholars and students from Law, Humanities, Social Science, Commerce, Management and Other Disciplines.
