EDUCATION

AUG - 2017

NATIONAL LAW UNIVERSITY, JODHPUR

PhD Doctoral Candidate

“RIGHT TO EXPUNGEMENT WITH SPECIAL REFERENCE TO EMPLOYABILITY OF EX-OFFENDERS AND EXONEREEES IN GOVERNMENT SECTOR” from National Law University, Jodhpur {2016- } Under the guidance of Dr Anjali Thanvi (Law) and Dr Ajay Kumar Sharma (Law).

- The topic has a grave importance as it focuses that “an ex-convict,” can lead to depression, low self-esteem, expected devaluation, discrimination, rejection, and delinquent behaviour. The social notion has to be changed because the offender gets rebirth after acquittal or serving of term in case of conviction. But the label of “offender” stigmatized to him by the society inhibits the socialization in his rebirth. The social repercussion of a criminal record can lead to rejection of individual’s civic participation. The criminal records of an individual adhere to him and whenever his past life and character are to be considered, the criminal history becomes a huge impediment. So some question arises-
1. Availability of Right to expungement to Ex-offender and Exonererees facilitates the process of rehabilitation.
 2. Non- availability of Right to expungement in India to a person having a criminal record negatively affects their employability in Government Sector.
